

4 Game-Changing LinkedIn Features for Job Seekers

1. OPEN TO WORK

Ready for your next role? Let recruiters know by turning on the Open to Work feature. By publicly or privately broadcasting your availability to recruiters in your network, you're 2 times more likely to be contacted by a recruiter on LinkedIn. For more information and directions, click here.

2. SKILLS MATCH

Wondering if you're the best fit? LinkedIn's Skills Match feature shows you whether your skills align with those listed in job postings on LinkedIn. This is a great way to identify keywords and phrases that might be missing from not only your LinkedIn profile but also your resume. For more information, click here.

3. I'M INTERESTED

Not quite ready for your next role? Not seeing a job that interests you? The I'm Interested feature allows you to signal your interest in future jobs at companies and organizations of your choice on LinkedIn. Your information will be shared with the company's or organization's recruiters. Once activated, the feature expires after 1 year. For more information and directions, click here.

4. HIRING IN YOUR NETWORK

Leverage the power of referrals. Even if you don't have a vast 1st-degree network on LinkedIn, you can still find opportunities. The Hiring in Your Network feature allows you to identify who is hiring in your network among 1st- and 2nd-degree contacts so you can reach out for more information or ask for a referral.